The ladies of the November club entertained at their house, the Christ church choir boys on Monday evening. Our talented reader, Miss Butterfield, read most acceptably, and the Andover quartette, composed of Phillips academy boys, rendered excellent music. Cake, lemonade, and Allan Hinton did the rest.

Look out for the brown tall metha; they have made their appearance in force in Lawrence. Here is the description of the caterpillar: "The caterpillar is a little brown fellow, with two bright red pin head polka dots on his back. He is about an inch long and covered with plentiful hair." He is both destructive and poisonous, so kill him but beware of contact.

HOW TO KEEP BOYS COOL.

Every mother should see the beautiful things W. H. Gile and Co are showing in Boys Shirt Waists and Blouses in Light Dressy effects or Medium and Dark every day or play colors in stripes plaids or plain laundered or soft laundered, prices 25c, 50c, 75c, 87c. The variety is the largest, the make, fit and style the best. Keep the boys Cool and Clean by a visit to this department.

A Pynchard Baccalaureate.

At Christ church next Sunday morning at 10.30, Rev. Frederic Palmer will preach a baccalaureate sermon to the members of the Pynchard senior class. Last year an old Pynchard boy, the Rev. Wm. G. Poor, inaugurated what promises to become a custom in this respect, by preaching a sermon to the class of 1900, although it was not preached as a baccalaureate.

MR. KIPLING has told you of the White Man's Burden. Let us speak of the white man's repose. He needs it, surely. And now what can give it to him? You say "sleep." Yes, if there's time—and he can sleep. But, without time, there are thousands of over-worked and fatigued men and women who yet must snatch respite from fret and worry. They find refreshment, strength and renewed vigor in a cup of Chase & Sanborn's "Original Package" Tea. Have you tried it yet? If not, do!

The Mothers' Class.

The following is the report given at the last meeting of the "Mothers' club" in the John Dove school, June 7, 1901, by the treasurer, Mrs. Alice F. Paine.

This society is called the Mothers' club of the John Dove school, and it has a membership of fifty-one. Our meetings are held the first Friday in every month, at which we usually have a speaker. At each meeting, our president, Miss Reed, explains the work that the children are doing in the Kindergarten, also the work to be done by them the following month. Our meetings are open to any mother and we are always glad to welcome new members.

The first meeting was held Sept. 14, at which Miss Reed and Miss Scott sang the songs used by the children, the club was organized and plans made for the year.

October 5, Miss Dame of Boston, gave an interesting talk on "Punctuality."

November 2, Dr. Gray spoke on "The Diet of Young Children," and Mrs. Bannister followed on the same subject. She also told the proper position of a child in school.

December 7, there was a large attendance at this meeting. The schools were closed earlier than usual to allow the teachers to be present. Miss Devereaux of Lowell, supervisor of kindergartens in that city, was present and took for her subject "Discipline," which was very interesting and much enjoyed by all.

January 11, 1901. The day being stormy, there were only a few Mothers present. Mrs. Dr. Loving gave a talk on "Nursing Sick Children," which was very helpful.

February 1, a very informal meeting was held, no speaker being present. There was a discussion by the Mothers on various subjects.

March 1, Rev. Mr. Shipman was our speaker. His subject was "Sunday in the Home," how it should be kept and children amused on that day.

April 5, Mr. Johnson, superintendent of schools, spoke on "Children in the Home," which was most interesting and instructive.

May 3. This was a business meeting. It was thought best to have a secretary and a report read at every meeting. A vote was taken and Mrs. Morrill was elected to fill that office. It was voted to hold a "gentlemen's night" at the last meeting of the season, and each member be assessed ten cents to pay expenses. Mrs. Feeney, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Allen and the officers were appointed a committee to make all arrangements. After the business meeting was over, Miss Reed gave a short talk which was very interesting.

June 7 was observed as "gentlemen's night" and was a great success. Miss Mason gave two readings entitled "Death Bridge on the Tay," by Will Carleton and "The Day of Judgement," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps. Mr. Boynton played a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Gay. Miss Reed gave a description of the children's work through the year, and several kindergarten songs were sung. A report was given by the treasurer, after which ice cream and cake were served. There were present fifty ladies and twenty gentlemen.

Our meetings have been well attended, the largest number present at any one meeting, except the last one, being fifty-three and the smallest twenty-five.

Our meetings are very interesting and instructive and the Mothers are getting better acquainted with one another. We hope to have enlarged membership next year and many interesting speakers. A mid-summer meeting will be held, the date to be announced later.

P. A. Minstrels.

As usual, the P. A. minstrel show last Friday evening, previous to the Exeter game Saturday, was productive of lots of enthusiasm. As a minstrel show, it was good, especially the olio. Cotton and Sheldon took a prominent part in this part of the performance, amusing the audience with as clever turns as are usually seen on the vaudeville stage.

The audience was a large and fashionable one and enjoyed with the boys the cheers and songs which were practiced under the leadership of "Perley" Weeks. Captain Matthews was called on for a speech and said a few words in which he alluded to Campbell's eligibility to pitch on the morrow.

Many members of the ball team participated in the performance. The jokes were most of them very good and were received with much applause.

The program was as follows:

Opening chorus (Arr. by H. Ballou)
"My Sun Flower Sue" (H. Ballou)
"Ma Honolulu Queen" (H. Ballou)
"Toby" (Knapp)
"He's Laid on the Shelf" (Sheldon)
"The Congregation Please Keep Their Seats" (Cotton)

Final (Arr. by O. Hellmann)
OLIO
Animated song sheet, Hasenwinkle and chorus
Farce, "A Pair of Lunatics," Chapman and Bartlett
Slight of hand, Vernon
Variety performance, Cotton and Sheldon
Quartet: Leavenworth, Cotton, Mains, Campbell

Pitcher John Archie Campbell feels better. He has gotten his revenge for being kept out of the first Andover-Exeter game of this year's series through a bogus charge of professionalism by being the principal factor in aiding Exeter's downfall in the baseball game on the Andover campus last Saturday afternoon. To the Exeter batters he proved a "delusion and a snare," only one hit being made off his delivery.

The whole Andover team gave him good support, especially Capt. Matthews, who pluckily caught nearly all the game after his thumb had been badly injured by a loose drop. Campbell played a fine fielding game all except in the very first inning when he picked up Rockwell's bunt and threw wild over Hasenwinkle's head. This error, the only one made by the Andover nine in the game, was not costly as no runs resulted. Andover batted Jackson hard, getting thirteen hits, several of them of the scratch variety.

Some excellent work was done by Jackson for Exeter but he received very poor support at critical moments. In the second Andover bunched her hits and with the assistance of three errors and a base on balls, scored six runs, virtually winning the game. One more run was added in the fourth, another in the fifth and a final one in the sixth. In nearly every inning Andover had one or two men left on bases, several times when such should not have been the case.

Exeter's runs came in the fourth and eighth. In the fourth, Cooney was given his base on balls, was advanced to second by Roger's grounder to Hasenwinkle, and scored on Gilman's double, the only hit Exeter made. In the eighth, Spencer, with two strikes called on him, walked to first, stole second, took third on Rockwell's out at first and scored on a passed ball.

The features of the game were a diving catch by Woodsom, a pretty throw to first by Huiskamp of a bunt hit, and Lanigan's long run and capture of Cooney's fly.

PAN-AMERICAN R. R.

Quick and in expensve method

The great Pan-American Exposition has realized fully the hopes and dreams of the managers, while the great public is more than pleased with the artistic and inventive displays provided.

The creative genius apparent in the architecture of the many buildings is without equal, and the effects obtained through the marvelous color and decorations are simply astounding. The landscape work has developed the grounds into a perfect paradise. The exhibits are a chosen lot and far superior in comparison are they to those of all other expositions.

Buffalo, as a city is a most delightful place, and excursions can be made in every direction to localities intensely interesting, but the greatest attraction save the Exposition is Niagara Falls, which is truly one of the marvels of the world. The Boston & Maine Railroad is making every inducement possible for the benefit of the tourist to Buffalo from New England. The rates are the lowest—the routes most numerous—the most direct and its trains without question the best equipped of any from Boston. The General Passenger Department of the Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston, will upon application send you a Pan-American Folder, which is replete in information of service and is yours for the asking.

COUNTY NEWS.

The annual meeting of the Animal Rescue league was held in Plumer hall, Salem, at 4 p. m. Monday.

The Lynn Directory for 1901 gives the names of more than 700 streets, avenues, courts, places and squares in the city. Since 1887 the number has increased from 90 to 700.

The graduating exercises at the state normal school, in Salem, will take place, June 26. Diplomas will be awarded to 81 graduates, of whom two are men.

The Salem boat club has elected these officers: Thomas Hyde, president; Joseph Lyon, vice president; James H. Roche, recording secretary; Edward Hammond, corresponding secretary; John J. Barnett, collector and treasurer.

A memorial window has been placed in the First Baptist church of Haverhill in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Bradley, by Edward Bradley of New Jersey and Mrs. Mariette Drew of Haverhill, the son and daughter of the deceased.

The veteran firemen of Salem attended a service in the Calvary Baptist church Sunday forenoon. There was special music and a sermon by Rev. Frank M. Lamb. In the afternoon the association visited the several cemeteries and decorated 66 graves.

Patrick Foley and George Fink were thrown from a carriage in a runaway on Main street, Haverhill, Monday afternoon, the horse colliding with a building in turning into Court street. Foley was badly cut about the head and face, and Fink had his left arm badly wrenched.

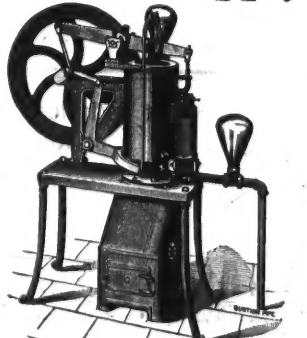

The second season of railroad gospel services was inaugurated at the Boston & Maine station Sunday afternoon under the management of ticket agent A. C. Tapley of this city. Present were many local clergymen. The speakers were Rev. A. E. Scoville of Melrose and Chas. C. Berry of Melrose. Those who assisted in the musical service were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hayes, M. A. Nichols and C. S. Gilchrist, and a chorus of 20 voices. The services, which were attended by 300, will be continued every Sunday afternoon during the summer.

Upwards of 400 persons attended the service held in the Central Baptist church, Salem, Sunday forenoon, in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of its dedication. There was special music under the direction of Arthur F. Luscomb, solos by Edward Hall and a sermon by Rev. Samuel E. Nobbe on "Lessons from a Study of 75 Years of Church Life." Sunday evening the Sunday school and the young people's societies gave a concert. There were addresses by F. W. Peavey of Newton, Stephen M. Moore, secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist union, and Rev. S. B. Nobbs. Cornet solos by James Faxon, aged 77, were also features.

Liquor raids by the Salem police were numerous Sunday and in three places successful. On the premises of the Musical club, 75 Congress street, a large quantity of beer, whisky, gin and wine was secured, also a piano, desk, chair, 16 large pictures and a well appointed bar in a club room at the rear of 71 Congress street considerable whisky and beer was seized, also a lot of furniture, including a bar. In both places beer was found in measures, pitchers and glasses. The police say that whisky has been sold in these places at 7 cents per glass, while beer is retailed at two glasses for 5 cents. Frequent complaint has been made by neighbors of these places. The seizures were witnessed by several hundred people. Whisky was also seized at the drug store of Thomas J. O'Hare, 117 Bridge street. The premises of Patrick Tansy, 15 Pratt street and M. Salmon, 16 Pratt street, were also visited, but nothing was seized.

The annual memorial services for the deceased members of the Lynn fire department were held Sunday afternoon by the relief association and the members of the Lynn veteran and Lynn Eagle veteran associations. There was a large number of men in the line in uniform, and after the graves had been decorated an address was delivered by Rev. A. J. Teeling in St. Mary's Catholic church. In the morning a delegation of firemen visited Salem, Peabody and Marblehead cemeteries, where members are buried, and they also went to the Eastern burial ground in Lynn. At 1 o'clock the line was formed in front of the Broad street engine house, and headed by a platoon of police and the 8th regiment band the march was made to Pine Grove cemetery. There were carriages containing Mayor Shepherd and the special committee from the city government, also the committee on fire department and hose 6 wagon was used for the flowers. The line was in charge of Chief Engineer Downing. About 90 graves were decorated with flowers and plants.

B. F. HOLT.

Murdered in Chelmsford.

The body of Mrs. Margaret Emma Blondin, the victim of the terrible murder in North Chelmsford, was brought to Lawrence Thursday by Undertaker Rogers of Lowell and placed in charge of Undertaker John Bre n.

Her story Wednesday was substantially as follows:

"My sister, Margaret Riley, was born in Ireland, about 34 years ago. Our father's name was Patrick Riley. There are five other sisters, and one brother, the others living in Providence, R. I., the others here in Lawrence and the brother in Ireland. My father brought his family to America when we were all young. He came to Lawrence and we grew up here.

"My sister who has been murdered lived here until a few years ago when she went to Lowell to work. It was while she was employed there that she met Fred Blondin. He kept company with her about six months, before the marriage, my other sister with whom Margaret boarded, objecting to the match for a time, but finally consenting. Blondin worked as an engineer on a derrick in Chelmsford. The couple were married in Boston in February and my daughter stood up for them. Later they moved to Boston and took rooms at 43 Green street, Blondin getting a better paying job in Boston than he had in Chelmsford. It was in a candy factory.

"My sister frequently wrote to me and last April she came up to see me. Her husband, whom I have never seen, was to come too, but he had to work. She told me then that her husband wanted her to go to Canada to live with his folks, but she said she didn't want to. I told her to do just as she thought best. She said he wanted her to go to Lowell on her way back to Boston and draw her savings from the bank so that she could put it with his money and go to Canada.

"She did go to Lowell and draw her money. After she got back to Boston she wrote to me asking that I come and visit her. I got the letter on a Saturday. I can't remember the date. I answered that I would come, sending the letter the next Monday. Tuesday came back bearing the inscription in Blondin's handwriting: 'Moved to Canada.' My daughter went to Boston and learned from the landlady where they lived that my sister was last seen by her on the Saturday noon that I got my letter inviting me there. The letter I sent the landlady tucked under the door Monday and then on Tuesday the landlady saw Blondin and asked him if he got the letter. He said yes. Then he told her that his wife was not coming back there any more, that they were going to Canada to live. That was the last the landlady saw of Blondin.

"I feel sure that Blondin and my sister had quarrelled about going to Canada, that she had left him and gone back to Lowell to look for work, that he followed her and murdered her between the Saturday she left the Boston house, and the Tuesday that Blondin left. This must have been about April 27 last.

"We know very little about Blondin, not even his father's name or home. Except that it is in Canada. He was older than my sister, how old I do not know. He was very selfish, and close with his money, and jealous. During his courtship he expressed a desire for a speedy marriage, but did not want to marry until he had a good job.

"About the time they were talking of going to Canada, Blondin said that he had received a letter from his father telling him that he had a rich uncle living in Lowell. I never heard that the uncle was found.

"When my daughter learned that my sister and her husband had disappeared from Boston on different dates, I thought of foul play at once, and when I failed to get letters from my sister, I knew that it could not be true that they had gone to Canada; and the mind of my son told me that a murdered woman's body had been found in

Chelmsford, I felt that it must be my sister. When I saw the newspaper description of the clothes, I became convinced that it was her body. It has been a terrible blow to me and when I saw what I did last night, which made me sure of the identification, I became almost sick. I feel that the police will find Blondin if he is on earth. If he is the murderer he killed one of the best little women on earth. The last words she said to me were about the Canada trip: 'If I give him my money I'll have to go.'

Mrs. Casey was unable to give any description of Blondin, as she never saw him and has no photograph of him. The fact that the murdered woman might belong in Lawrence was first brought to the attention of the local police by a son of Mrs. Casey, who was sent to the station by his mother to notify the authorities of her suspicion that the murdered woman was her sister. She felt sure it was Mrs. Blondin as soon as she saw a description of the underclothes in the papers.

Our Working Girls.

Life to the most favored is not always full of sunshine, but to the average American girl or woman who is obliged to work for her living, and, perhaps to help others at home, life is often a heavy drag in consequence of illness.

Women who work, especially those who are constantly on their feet, are peculiarly liable to the development of organic troubles, and should particularly heed the first manifestations, such as backache, pains in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach, irregular and painful monthly periods, faintness, weakness, loss of appetite and sleep.

The young lady whose portrait we publish herewith had all these symptoms, and in addition leucorrhoea, and was cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. First, she wrote a letter to Mrs. Pinkham, labored at Lynn, Mass., describing her trouble, received to do to get well, and now wishes her name used to convince others that they may be cured as she was.

The same helping hand, free of charge or obligation, is extended, to every ailing woman in America. If you are sick you are foolish not to get this valuable advice, it costs you nothing, and she is sure to help you. Don't wait until it is too late—write to-day.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

SUBWAY BILL.

BOSTON, June 11.—When the Senate took up the subway bill yesterday morning, indications were not wanting to show that the struggle of the legislative session would be over. The members of the upper branch were on hand in good season. The tension inside the chamber, as well as without, was as strong as on Friday, when Governor Crocker announced that he would not approve the bill without referendum of the city of Boston.

The committee on metropolitan affairs had met before the session and had voted to adhere to its former position against the referendum. That the committee and other advocates of the House bill in the Senate were determined to force the issue with the governor, and later try it out on the floor, was evident.

As soon as the bill was taken up, however, other amendments came with a rush, and it looked as if the Senate was going to get it without delay. Senator Chamberlain of Plymouth offered an amendment involving a dual proposition in the form of referendum. Senator Sullivan of Suffolk had a similar amendment to be submitted to the people of Boston at a special election to be held between July 15 and Sept. 15. The people at said special election should decide whether the city of Boston should build or the Boston elevated. If the city, then the Nickerson bill; if the elevated company, then the bill before the Senate became operative.

Senator Shaw of Suffolk submitted the labor amendment, now incorporated in the House bill, to be attached to the Gardner bill for city construction and ownership.

As soon as the amendments had been presented a desire to postpone consideration of the whole matter till today, to permit the printing of the amendments, was manifested. Before this, however, Senator Currier endeavored to withdraw his referendum. He wanted to have discussion on that proposition come after the Gardner bill had been discussed and a substitute. Objection was raised, however.

THE HOUSE.

The House was in session just 30 minutes.

The bill to authorize the secretary of state to grant to disabled veterans of the Spanish war special licenses as hawkers and peddlers was, under a suspension of the rules, passed to be engrossed.

The bill to provide for the enlargement of the Wachusett reservation was also passed to be engrossed, under a suspension of the rules.

The committee on rules reported against the amendment to the House rules to require that "committees shall report upon matters within 14 days after the close of the hearings thereon," and the amendment was rejected.

The committee on rules reported in favor of suspending the rules and admitting the resolve to require the metropolitan park commission to investigate the desirability of constructing and maintaining a public bath house at Nahant beach.

The resolve to provide for removing the offices of certain state officials from places outside the state house to the state house was put over until today.

The committee on ways and means met yesterday afternoon and decided upon several matters which have been pending for some time.

For the construction of the Salisbury bridge the committee recommends a bill which puts the state $25,000 of the expense, $20,000 upon the Haverhill and Amesbury street railway and the road to have 15 years' use of the bridge. Upon Newburyport and Salisbury a portion of the cost is assessed, while the cost of Essex pays the balance. The bridge will cost $150,000.

The bill relating to construction of Northern avenue, a street leading to the Commonwealth flats, was reported favorably.

On the bill providing for a survey of the Bass river canal route the committee recommended expending $10,000 this year, but the whole appropriation shall not exceed $22,000.

WHOLESALE FOOD.

Who produces a better or more wholesome article of food than has been before known or used, is in the highest sense of the term a public benefactor, and when this improvement has to do with the very "Staff of Life" it comes very closely into the every day life of this and every community. These remarks are suggested by the completion at Minneapolis of the "New Century Flour," by George C. Christian and the introduction of "New Century Flour," a product that marks the highest point yet attained in a bread making flour.

FASHION AND FOLLY.

Wife—John, I must have a new hat. This one is horribly old style. John—You mustn't be so extravagant. I can't afford to buy one now. I've lost $20 at cards in the last two sessions.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The author's train of thought is a constructively train. What some people don't know they are forever talking about. For centuries the world has waited in vain for a perfect man.

The shorter the crop is in winter the longer the bill in summer. The crab may not be as good eating as the lobster, but he'll do in a pinch. It's all right to get angry once in a while—but keep your mouth shut when you do.

The less we have the more the recording angel places to our credit when we give. The young man who hustles for a job will get his name on the pay roll quicker than the one who applies for a position.—Chicago News.

Caterpillar Pest.

Great consternation has been aroused in this city by the advent of the caterpillar of the brown tail moth, and the gravest anxiety is felt for the future of Lawrence's beautiful shade trees. He has come down upon the good folk of Lawrence in multitudes, exceeding even the hosts of Sennacherib, which descended upon the chosen of God. Already he has defoliated very many trees in various parts of the city and nothing but the hardest and most energetic work on the part of the park commission and the most earnest and faithful assistance of every citizen of Lawrence will prevent the denuding of the shade trees of the city, and what more sorry plight could be beheld than Lawrence's shade trees stripped of their foliage.

Not only does the caterpillar destroy the leaves of trees but he is very poisonous and several persons are already going about, covered with blotches and scratching like mad. Under the folds of the Pied Piper of Hamelin this pest is uniform in size and color and does not confine himself to biting babies in their cradles, but is equally partial to grown up folks and to animals, and, sorry indeed, is the man or woman who gets in the way of the smallest particle of his fussy covering which is disseminated into the air.

THEY COME TO STAY.

The caterpillars, as far as is known, first made their appearance in this city a few weeks ago on the trees of the pear orchard of Edward F. Childs of 469 Haverhill street. Mr. Childs took a few of the little fellows to the gypsy moth committee in Boston and he was immediately informed that the pest that infested his place was the poisonous and destructive caterpillar of the brown tail moth. Ever since, he has been waging a fierce war against them and although it was futile to attempt to save his own trees, he has succeeded to some extent in preventing the caterpillars from getting out of his yard to crawl into the shade trees of which they would make short work. They will eventually get out, however, despite the great efforts to prevent them, for they will form cocoons in a few days and then about the first of August the moths will make their appearance and will fly about the city, laying eggs on trees of all kinds. Next year, unless the most stringent measures are taken to destroy the eggs, millions upon millions of the caterpillars will infest the trees and defoliate them in an incredibly short space of time.

One party has collected the caterpillars by the peck and administered the quieting remedy of cremation, but when it is considered that each female is capable of producing 300 eggs, it is easily seen that the process is not such a sure one. The proper method of extermination is to cut from the trees and burn the unsightly web in the winter time, ere the egg has been hatched.

DESCRIPTION OF PEST.

The caterpillar is a little brown fellow, with two bright red pinhead like dots on his back. He is about an inch long and covered with plentiful hair. More especially, he infests at the present time, the regions about Haverhill, Bradford, Tremont and Margrin streets, and is all over the ground, the trees, the bushes, and the people. Besides the generally uncomfortable itching of him under foot and incautiously touching the person, he seems to possess some poisonous quality. Any irritation, variously described as similar to nettle rash or "hives" and as producing red blotches and pimples, with intolerable itching, is a somewhat epidemic. Actual contact with the caterpillar is not necessary to produce the malady, and the opinion is expressed that their fuzzy covering, disseminated into the air, is infectious, with an effect similar to the influence of pollen of plants in causing hay fever. The pests hang in bunches like hornets' nests upon the trees, and pear trees seem to be to their best liking. They quickly skeletonize the leaves and devastate a large tree in a single day.

Although more poisonous than the gypsy moth, the brown tail has the one slightly redeeming quality that each female lays 200 less eggs than her first cousin, but even then the brown tail moth lays 300. A complete description of the moth and the remedies will appear in tomorrow night's issue of the Telegram.

M. O'MAHONY.

At the regular meeting of the board of aldermen Monday night a new sewer ordinance was passed to be ordained to take the place of the ordinance killed recently by the common council. According to the ordinance introduced last evening the extension of the Santee pond sewer will be built by M. O'Mahoney, who will look to the mayor and aldermen for the appropriation for instruction. An attempt was made by the Republican members of the board to have the work done by contract, but the ordinance introduced by Alderman Pickes was defeated before the other one presented by Alderman White was passed. The new ordinance must be passed by the common council before it can go into effect.

The board was notified by Lawyer William C. Ford that Thomas P. Gullitt claims that he was assaulted by Patrolman Adam Wuest on the night of May 29.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover; C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

NO THIRD TERM.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—McKinley has decided not to be a candidate for a third term. The following statement was given out at the White House: "I regret that the suggestion of a third term has been made and doubt whether I am called upon to give it notice. But there are now questions of grave importance before the administration and the country for just consideration on which should not be prejudiced in the public mind by even a suspicion of a thought of a third term. In view therefore of the reiteration of the suggestion of it, I will say now, once for all, expressing a long settled conviction, I not only will not be a candidate for a third term, but would not accept a nomination for it if offered me. My only ambition is to serve through the second term to the acceptance of my countrymen whose generous confidence I so deeply appreciate, and then with them to do my duty in the ranks."

Librarians Meet.

The annual meeting of the Massachusetts Library club was held in Nevins Memorial hall in Methuen Wednesday. The guests to the number of 180, including librarians from all over the state, and also from New Hampshire and Rhode Island, arrived at the hall shortly after 11 o'clock. Most of them came to this city first, and went to Methuen by special electric.

At the hall they were received by the librarian Miss Harriet Crosby, and J. Sidney Howe and Dr. George E. Woodbury, trustees of the Nevins Memorial library. After refreshing themselves with lemonade poured by Miss Blanche Knight, the guests repaired to the hall where the exercise of the day took place. Mr. Koopman, librarian of Brown university, and president of the club, presided. After a few opening remarks he presented J. Sidney Howe, trustee of the Nevins library who welcomed the guests in a very interesting and appropriate speech during the course of which he related the history of the libraries in Methuen.

Following him the subject of the Library and the Child was taken up. The speakers were all interesting and their addresses well received. This part of the program was as follows:

Mrs. M. A. Sanders, of Pawtucket, R. I., on Children, the Link between the Library and the Home.

Mrs. M. E. Root, of Providence, R. I., on Work with Schools.

Publishing Board of the A. L. A. New Developments in its Work.

The club was fortunate in having W. L. Fletcher of Amherst college, Librarian of the Providence public library and Hortense Webster of the Boston Athenaeum present as well as many other distinguished librarians of the state.

After the literary exercises the reports were read, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President, Hilmer C. Wellman, public library, Brookline; vice-presidents, Clarence W. Ayer, public library, Brockton, and Miss Nellie L. Fox, Morse institute, Natick; secretary, George E. Nutting, public library, Fitchburg; treasurer, Miss Theodora E. Macurdy, public library, Boston; and recorder, Miss Nina E. Brown, A. L. A. Publishing board, Boston.

When the meeting was adjourned, the guests by invitation of Mrs. David Nevins who most kindly threw open her house for their use during the day, went to the Nevins residence, where lunch was served by Caterer D. D. Page. The visitors spent the afternoon in visiting the points of interest about town, and examining the Methuen library. This meeting was one of the largest ever held by the club.

AN EPIDEMIC OF WHOOPING COUGH.

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for group and naturally turned to it at that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure.—John H. Clifford, Proprietor Norwood House, Norwood, N. J. This remedy is for sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover; C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

MOTH CATCHER

Sure death to Tobacco Moths. Protects orchard, garden and lawn. Kills the mother of the Apple and Pear Worm, the Codling Moth, also the Stripping Fly or moth like insect that stings the fruit, the Tent Caterpillar, and the Horn Fly which make the worms that gnaw the trees and kills the orchard. Also catches the Peach and Plum Beetle, that make the Curculio, the June Bug, Colorado Beetle, Potato Bug, and other noxious insects. No fruit grower, farmer or gardener can afford to be without it. This Moth Catcher destroys the moth that kills the Honey and bees, so that any one who desires to keep an Apiary with this trap. This trap kills the pests. No one raising Fruit, Apples, Peaches, Plums, or Tomatoes, Squash, Melons and Beans, can afford to be without this great device to make perfect fruit, crops, etc. The price is put so low that all can use it, only one small size and $1.00 large size. Torch and all ready to set on the tub. Will not rust, as coal oil is used on water.

Positively No Poison to Kill Man or Beast. Which often happens by spraying with expensive drugs.

Endorsed by Prof. Steadman, of Missouri Agricultural College, and Prof. University of Georgia Experimental Station, and others.

New Treasurer at Phillips.

The retirement of Mr. Alpheus H. Hardy from his position as treasurer of Phillips Academy, has long been expected because of that gentleman's long ago expressed desire to resign his position. The success of his work as the business head of Phillips Academy has been marked. He has given generously of his time and talents to the work and development of the institution, and he now turns it over to other hands greatly enriched by his labors.

Mr. Sawyer is welcomed to the important position he has been chosen to fill, by a loyal alumni, a sympathetic board of trustees, and a host of well wishing friends among the citizens of Andover. The young life is coming forward in all fields of labor, and the recent changes at Phillips have shown that those who direct affairs there, are believers in "young men for action." A comparatively small number of men have filled the position of treasurer of Phillips in the one hundred and twenty odd years of its existence, but all have been men of attainments and power. Mr. Sawyer gives promise of coming up to the full measure of the standard which has been set. He has the enthusiasm and vigor to make a large success of his work at this particular time, when the institution seems to be entering upon a new era of great development and progress, and we believe that the records of future years will show the achievement of all that the present promises.

Very Slow Haste.

It is a pity that the street railway question cannot be passed over without further agitation, but the slow way in which haste is being made to bring the Reading cars to the square, is most exasperating to those who had believed the work would all be accomplished ere this.

The selectmen are powerless in the matter of forcing provisions, but they are bending every energy to induce early action that shall do what the citizens so earnestly desire.

We have believed and still do believe that the terminus of the Reading road should be in the square. A union of interests between the L. L. & H. and Reading companies, by whatever means secured, does not change the need of better service for the travelling public, which a transfer station in Andover square can alone accomplish. The public doesn't care a rap who runs the railroad if only the railroad serves it properly. The citizens of Andover have acted in good faith toward the Reading company and now expect it to act in a like manner toward them. They did not want the cars to run to the square for the sake of increasing the value of that property, but for their own comfort. They expect in return for their good will, prompt and satisfactory improvement in the Reading car service, and they are looking to the Reading officials to provide such an improvement.

Editorial Cinders.

It is a graceful thing for the veteran Andover publisher to contribute such a handsome memorial to Andover's grand old man, Dr. Park. There was a bond between Mr. Draper and his noted author that made them more than author and publisher in their relations to each other. The tablet bears for an inscription the heartfelt tribute of not alone the man who caused it to be inscribed, but of countless men throughout the land, who have felt the impress of Prof. Park's remarkable personality.

TO BE MINISTERS

Six Young Men Graduated at the Ninety-
Third Anniversary of Andover
Theological Seminary.

This week brought to pass the ninety-third anniversary of the Andover Theological Seminary, and six young men went forth from her portals prepared to preach the gospel, two of them ordained ministers, Henry J. Bennett and Edward F. Carey, who will go as missionaries to Japan and Turkey.

The exercises of anniversary week at the Seminary began last Sunday when Prof. Egbert C. Smyth preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class in the Seminary Chapel in the afternoon. Besides the Theological students, there were a number of townspeople and Phillips and Abbot students present.

Prof. Smyth took as his text, John 17: "And that they may be sanctified in truth." He said in part: "Our Lord in these words is praying for the first ministers of the gospel. The burden of his prayer is that they be holy."

"I sometimes think that the word most necessary to be addressed to Christ's ministers today is concentration."

Preaching is in danger of becoming too indefinite, of ceasing duly to reach the conscience and the will, and of failing to secure that entire surrender of the soul to God and devotion to His service which our Lord sought to produce in His immediate disciples, and through them in His church. I am not deprecating the general type of piety in our time, no, we lack a back to devotion to Christ. It has in a marked degree the note of service. It exhibits splendid instances of sacrifice for human weal. Never has the church, on so large a scale, been engaged in works of philanthropy. Nor is there a sense of intensity of service. The need is of a replenishing of inward fountains, which, if not filled from the deep unfailing spring, must run dry; of keeping in force and vigor motives drawn from the unseen and eternal; of so clearing and training the spiritual eye that the world that is will not obscure for us the world into which Christ would have the present one transformed; the need, in a word, of definiteness and certainty of aim, of springing from distinction and accuracy of perception of truth. A danger is the losing in the manifold splendors of our knowledge, the simplicity of our faith, of learning so much that the one thing needful is forgotten; of so fearing to be narrow that we cease to be either true or purposeful; of being so enamored of breadth and largeness of view, that we cease to have any center for our circumference, or point of view for our visions, or real content for our universe.

"Let us learn to know all we may—meet men of today in the light of our day, but let us not forget nor lose the 'master light of all our seeing'; nor put ourselves outside of that sphere in which a holiness in truth, brought to earth from its highest seat, is revealed to him who will learn to receive it. It is important to remind ourselves and ever to remember that the Christian ministry is a ministry of redeeming, triumphing love, a passion for souls out of one great passion, a search for the one lost sheep, a ministry to individual souls."

"For your sakes, dear friends, who go out from us this week to take your place among Christ's ministers, He who calls you to His service, sanctified Himself that you may also be sanctified in truth. Can I leave with you a more sacred word, a motive more pure, high, constraining?"

"You bear with you the esteem and confidence of those who have known you in your work of preparation here for the Christian ministry. May the blessing be yours to the full of those in whom Jesus' desire for His ministry is fulfilled. His joy in such is great. It is the glorious regard of all that He endured for you and for the world. And you shall enter into His joy."

On Tuesday evening, the anniversary of the Society of Inquiry was held at the Chapel church, with Edward F. Carey, of the graduating class who was recently ordained, as presiding officer. The address, upon "The Breadth and Economy of Foreign Missions," was delivered by Hon. Samuel B. Capen, LL.D., president of the American Board of Foreign Missions.

"The record of the society of inquiry in sending out over 200 missionaries in less than one hundred years is one of which any institution might well be proud."

"In the early part of the last century there were practically no Christian organizations. Now we have Sunday schools, with 11,000,000 pupils in the United States alone; the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and our missionary societies besides numerous other organizations. There was a time when only one student at Yale was a Christian and now 65 per cent. of the students are Christians. Of the money given for philanthropic purposes 18 per cent. is given by the attendants of churches."

"There has been a great change in missionary work. Much has been done now than the preaching of the gospel. The American board now seeks to spread religion by educating the heathen, by sending competent physicians among them to care for their physical well being, and by providing industrial training. The board supports 12 colleges; 1200 public schools, with 600,000 pupils. Last year the board's medical missionaries treated 330,000 patients. The power of the press is great in assisting the work of missionaries. Over 10,000,000 books were published and sent out last year. The translating and printing of the Bible has accomplished wonderful results. The Bible is now printed in 400 different languages."

"It is not true that trade follows the flag, but it is true that trade follows missions. For instance in 1843 exports to Hawaii were less than $300,000, and in 1900 they were $27,000,000. Commerce without Christianity is a curse, but when missions are started, the converted heathen become filled with a desire to adopt Christian customs, and then they that the commerce of England and America have to turn in order to fill their wants."

"The American board is most economical in its work. Statistics show that 93½ cents out of every dollar contributed goes to the front, 6½ cents being all that is required for administration. The board has to pay no salaries and preachers less than $300 a year."

"We are asked many times if our missionaries are going back to China. We intend to be very careful of our missionaries, but, please God, they are going back to China."

Alumni Meeting.

The alumni meeting of the Seminary was held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Arthur W. Kelley, of Auburn, secretary of the association, pre-

ABBOT ACADEMY.

GIFT TO SEMINARY.

On Saturday evening there will be a musicale by the pupils of Prof. Downs. The Fidelity society, under Professor Downs' direction will give Cowen's cantata, "The Daughter of the Sea."

On Sunday morning, at the South church, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached, at 10:30 o'clock, by Rev. W. H. Davis, D. D., of Newton.

On Monday afternoon, from four to six, the Senior class gives a lawn party. In the evening, at 7:45 o'clock, occurs the annual Draper reading.

On Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock, there will be the tree-planting by the Senior class, at eleven o'clock in the South church, the anniversary address will be given by Rev. Leonard W. Bacon, D. D., of Norwich, Conn.

It is always a matter of regret to the school that its doors cannot be thrown wide open to all the Andover friends for all the closing exercises of the year, but the limit in space in Abbot hall necessarily limits hospitality, and returning old scholars and especially the friends of the graduating class must be thought of first.

To the tree-planting and the exercises in the South church, however, all are cordially welcome.

The trustees invite the following persons to the anniversary luncheon, tickets for which will be given out, if not received earlier, in the trustees' room, Draper hall, directly after the exercises at the church, Tuesday; past members of the Board of Trustees, past and present members of the Faculty, members of the Alumnae association, resident or visiting, past members of the school who do not live in town, present members of the school, specially invited guests.

A Worthy Object.

The Gloucester Relief Association makes an appeal for the families of lost and disabled fishermen. Their motto is "Lend a hand," and their object is "to render quick relief to the families of lost and disabled fishermen; to unite the efforts of all lovers of the widow and fatherless in times of sorrow and suffering."

The organization has no salaried officers and gives aid only after careful investigation. It is not sectarian and knows no creed but "to do good." The statistics, as compiled by the city clerk of Gloucester, of the men lost at sea from 1874 to 1901—twenty-seven years—show an average of 92 each year.

While there are very numerous calls for charity upon the citizens of our town, the Gloucester work well deserves support. Should any one have an interest in this particular cause and like to contribute a small amount, it will be gladly received by Joseph W. Smith, who is the authorized collector for this town.

WEST PARISH.

A brush fire broke out in West Andover Monday noon, causing a loss of about $200, as nearly 100 cords of brush wood were burned. The fire burned over six acres of land near the farm of A. B. Cutler. The wood destroyed belonged to Nathan Gage. The Andover fire department was called out and prevented further loss. It is thought that the fire caught from sparks from a steam road roller which passed there a short time before.

A big gang of men has been at work putting the N. E. Tel. and Tel. company's trunk wires under ground between Lowell and Lawrence through Lowell street.

The West Parish Christian Endeavor society will give a lawn party on the common in front of the church next Tuesday evening. A hurdy gurdy will be on hand to amuse the gathering, and strawberries and cream will be served. Admission will be free.

Weddings.

MANNING-STUART.

A pretty June wedding was that held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Stuart at 26 Quincy street, Lawrence, Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when James Watson Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Manning of 111 South Main street, this place, and Miss Mary Louise Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stuart of Jackson street, Lawrence, were united in marriage.

At 7:30 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor, which had been transformed by palms, ferns, potted plants and flowers into a bower of beauty, to strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by the Columbian orchestra. Rev. George F. Greene, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony, the bride being given away by her father.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a crepe du chine trimmed with point lace and wore a veil. Her wedding bouquet was of lilies of the valley. Miss Annie Gage Jaquith, who was maid of honor, wore white mulle over white silk. She carried white sweet peas. Albert Harold Manning, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

It was an ideal evening for the ceremony and the environments for the occasion were all that could be desired. The house where the ceremony was held, was beautifully and profusely decorated by Thornton Bros., florists, with cut flowers and greenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Manning received the congratulations of the guests thronging the rooms, during the reception which followed the wedding. Among the present were guests from Boston, Lowell, Haverhill, Bradford, N. H., Andover, North Andover, Salem, Beverly, Melrose Highlands and other places. D. L. Page of Lowell, was the caterer.

COLLINS-COLLINS.

The wedding of Miss Sadie Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Collins of 94 North Main street, and Patrick J. Collins of North Andover, took place at St. Augustine's church, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. D. J. O'Mahoney performed the ceremony in the presence of numerous friends, who nearly filled the church.

Miss Mary O'Connor, the bride's niece, acted as bridesmaid. She was gowned in white swiss muslin over white silk and wore a large picture hat of white chiffon and forget-me-nots. Her bouquet was pink roses. Louis McAloon, of North Andover, was best man. Acting as ushers were Michael J. and William C. Crowley, William Moynihan and Joseph Burns.

The bride was becomingly attired in a white Louisiane silk, trimmed with duchess lace and chiffon, cut en train. Her veil was caught with lilies of the valley and she carried bride roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception occurred at the home of the bride's parents on North Main street, at which were present guests from Boston, Lowell, Haverhill, Lawrence, North Andover, Andover and New Hampshire. The wedding supper was served by Caterer Fred Lane of Lawrence. The rooms were decorated prettily for the occasion with ribbons and cut flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins, who received many beautiful and expensive presents, left on the late train for New York where they will spend two weeks. On their return from their wedding trip, they will reside at 10 Belmont street, North Andover, and will be "at home" after August 1st.

NELLIAN-HAGERTY.

On Tuesday afternoon, the wedding of Michael Nelligan of Lawrence and Miss Jennie Hagerty of North Main street, this place, was held at 4 o'clock in St. Augustine's church, Rev. D. J. O'Mahoney performing the ceremony in the presence of numerous relatives and friends.

The best man was Thomas Halleran of Lawrence, and the bridesmaid Miss Nellie Hagerty, sister of the bride. The bride wore a gown of dove colored silk. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father James Hagerty.

In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Nelligan were serenaded by a Lawrence Drum Corp to which the groom belongs. Later in the evening the happy couple started on a wedding journey to Buffalo.

Public Auctions by B. ROGERS.

Next Saturday afternoon, June 15, at 3 o'clock, sharp, I will sell the property on Park street known as the "Andover bakery." Good central location with buildings and about 1-2 acre of land.

On Saturday, June 22, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, I will sell the property belonging to E. J. ROWE, located corner of Summer and Whittier streets. The estate will be sold in three parcels:— No. 1 consists of the house and stable, lot having a frontage on Summer street of 90 ft. The house has all the modern improvements and is in first class condition. Location is of the best in town and neighborhood is unsurpassed. Lot No. 2 adjoins the land of Mr. Holt on Whittier street and has a frontage of 60 ft. on said street, running back to Mr. Clark's land. Lot No. 3 consists of the corner lot, having a frontage on Whittier street of 113 ft. and on Summer street 71 ft. This is a good chance either for a home or an investment. $200 to be paid at time of sale on lot No. 1; $100 on lots 2 and 3.

On Saturday, June 29, I will sell at Public Auction at the Florence A. Parker store house on Park street, a large quantity of Household Furniture. For particulars see next week's issue.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Last Sunday Devoted to Little Ones at Several Local Churches.

Last Sunday was given up almost entirely to the children at several of the local churches, and large attendances were in order at all of them. The weather was bright and pleasant, so that nothing interfered with the joyousness of the day.

Free Church.

That the change of the service from the evening to the morning at the Free church was a wise one could be easily seen from the large attendance of children and parents, and from the bright and fresh appearance of the former. A space in the body of the church was reserved for the children, who marched in from the vestry, the boys up one aisle, the girls up the other, led by Miss Jackson and Fred B. Goff.

The service was very impressive and beautiful and was wholly taken by the children as follows:

Organ Voluntary
Processional Hymn, "Praise Him"
Call to Worship
Doxology
Invocation
Hymn 529, "With Thankful Hearts"
Baptism of Children: Henry Llewellyn Pomeroy, Hilda Stewart Dickson, Margaret Peters, Charles Edward Buchanan, William Ayers Buchanan, Benjamin Alden Farnham, Edith Dick
Consecration Hymn
Responsive Reading
Pastoral Prayer
Antiphon, "He shall Feed His Flock Like a Shepherd"
Presentation of Bibles to baptized children who have reached seven years of age: Douglas Donald Smith, George Morse, Douglas Elliot Anderson Spark, Norman Fraser, Carl Lindsay, Douglas Laing, Ralph Farnham, Harold Low Gleason and Lizzie Lamont Dick

Hymn 634, "O Word of God Incarnate"
Graduation Exercises Class from Prim. Dept.
The graduates: Marion Cole, Myra Wilson, Anna Linquist, Dorothy Kay, Alice McDermitt, Flossie Soutar, Lizzie Porter, Isabel Anderson, Sybil Rowe, Edith Lawson, Charlie McDermitt, John French
Hymn 534, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is"
Reading, "Christ and the Little Ones"

South Church.

The Children's Sunday services at the South church began in the morning with an interesting sermon by Rev. F. R. Shipman who told to the children the story of Joe Shattuck, who went to fight the Indians.

Four children were baptized. In the evening at 6 o'clock a concert was held. The church was well filled when the children marched up the aisle singing and took seats in the body of the church near the front.

The service was given almost wholly by the children, with a story by Rev. F. R. Shipman in regard to the floating hospital to aid which the children's pennies were to be sent.

Following is the program which was rendered:

Organ Voluntary
Processional, "Walking in the Sunshine"

West Church.

A unique feature of the Children's Sunday exercises at the West church last Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, was the presence in the edifice of four feathered songsters, who took occasion to lift their voices during a greater part of the time. The church was beautifully decorated with masses of wild cherry bushes, barberries, lupine and Solomon's seal, especially arranged around the platform and in the window orifices.

Rev. G. A. Andrews preached a splendid sermon to the children upon "Obedience," taking his text from 1 Samuel 3: 10, "Speak, Lord, for thy servant heareth," and drawing his illustrations from Samuel's life.

The service and decorations were in charge of Miss Kate Pike and Miss Bessie Dodson. The children marched into the church singing "Marching On."

A Tribute.

Entered unto rest, on the morning of June 7th, Mary A. Underwood, at the age of seventy-seven years and three months.

To those whose privilege it was to have known her, her ever abiding sense of justice, of duty and above all, what it was to live and die bravely, has been a lesson. God knows the years of patient study of life's problems, and well has she learned the lessons given her to learn.

Mr. Kelly's summary was as follows: "The names on our list this year number thirty-three, with ages ranging from the ninety year old Riggs, who headed our roll after Professor Parks' death, to the thirty years of Flood, who passed away but two months after graduation. The average age of the entire number was seventy years, one month, and eleven days. One has passed his ninetieth birthday, eight were between eighty and ninety, nine between seventy and eighty, ten between sixty and seventy, three between fifty and sixty, and two between thirty and forty.

"Five were born in Maine, one in New Hampshire, seven in Vermont, five in Massachusetts, six in Connecticut, four in New York, one in New Jersey, two in Pennsylvania, one in Wales, and one in Ceylon. Fourteen died in Massachusetts.

"Eighteen were graduates of this Seminary, one a graduate in the special course, eleven did not finish their course here, and three were connected with the Seminary as resident licentiates.

"Twenty-seven were college graduates, two had a partial college education, and four were without college education. The institutions represented, with the number from each, are: Harvard, four; Bowdoin, two; Dartmouth, five; University of Vermont, two; Waynesburg, two; Williams three; Yale, four; and Brown, Hamilton, Kenyon, Marietta, Middlebury, New York University, Olivet, Ripon, University of Michigan, each one.

"In addition to Congregationalists the list includes those connected with the Presbyterians, Cumberland Presbyterians, Episcopalians, Wesleyan Methodists, Free Baptists, and Swedenborgians.

"Versions of the Bible in three languages are a monument to Riggs' notable missionary career of well-nigh seventy years. Gordon left the impress of his life on the Christian church in the rising empire of the Orient. Smith devoted his life to the mission field where he was born; Hazen was kept from entering the foreign work that he might give to American Congregationalism a service of national importance. Among the leaders in our country, Heloit claims Emerson as her honored 'Zeus'; Christian education in the West owes to Bliss a debt that only the distant future can count; the home-missionary church and college like enlisted the sympathies of Pike and Chittenden; and Meserve and Tufts gave their energy for years to training the young. Tyler will be remembered as the able and entertaining historian of our earlier national literature; Byington, for his historical studies; Kellogg's pure and wholesome influence has been extended by his pen to thousands of young persons. The not less faithful, if sometimes less conspicuous, toil of those that in the pastorate have in the cause of many a reform have wrought well will not be forgotten here or by the Lord that all were serving."

The subject for discussion during the afternoon was "The Church and the Community," and those who participated were Rev. Daniel Evans of Cambridge, Rev. George F. Kenngott of Lowell, J. W. C. Pickering of Lowell, President Charles O. Day of the Seminary, Rev. Frederick H. Page of this city, and several others. Many valuable suggestions on church work were made.

Secretary Allen was re-elected and was also chosen treasurer. Rev. Robert W. Dunbar of North Chelmsford was elected a member of the executive committee for three years.

The bronze tablet of Prof. Park was next presented in behalf of W. F. Draper, the donor, to the Seminary in an address by Rev. George R. W. Scott, D. D., of Newton, and was received for the Seminary by Dr. C. F. Bancroft. Both addresses were very fine.

Secretary Allen was re-elected and was also chosen treasurer. Rev. Robert W. Dunbar of North Chelmsford was elected a member of the executive committee for three years.

Wednesday, a reception was tendered the alumni in Bartlett chapel, the occasion being a most enjoyable one.

Thursday morning was the time set apart for the closing exercises of the graduating class, and the bestowal of degrees of bachelor of divinity upon the following graduates:

Henry J. Bennett, A. B., of Andover, Harvard, '98; Joseph H. Bennett, A. B., of Crete, Neb., Doane college, '98; Edward F. Carey, A. B., of Princeton, Ill., University of Michigan, '98; Fred P. Ensminger, A. B., of Sanford, Fla., Rollins college, '97; William M. Macnair of Providence, R. I., Brown University; Lucius F. Reed of Weeping Water, Neb., Doane college, '98.

The program included the following essays:

"Goethe as a teacher of Religion," Edward F. Carey; "Evangelistic Preaching," by Fred P. Ensminger; "Modern Civilization and Christian Missions," by Henry J. Bennett; "The Place of Catechetics in the Church," by William H. Macnair; "Preaching in Prison," by Joseph H. Bennett; "Testimonium Spiritus Sancti Interum," by Lucius F. Reed.

The following scholarships were announced:

Prizes of $50 in Homiletics, Joseph H. Bennett, Fred P. Ensminger, Subject, "The Ideal of Modern Preaching."

Prizes for essays on Theology: Henry J. Bennett, Edward F. Carey, William M. Macnair, Lucius F. Reed, Alfred R. Atwood, Lee M. Dean, Frederick J. Libby.

Scholarships of $200: Middle class—Frederick J. Libbey, Richmond, Me.; Junior class—John C. S. Andrews, West Roxbury.

Alumni Dinner
Yesterday afternoon at one o'clock dinner was served in Bartlett chapel to the trustees of the seminary, the board of visitors, past members of the board of trustees and visitors, donors to the seminary, faculty and alumni of the seminary, ministerial delegates, other clergymen, faculty of Phillips academy, and the graduating class.

Judge Bishop, president of the board of trustees, presided very acceptably over the post prandial exercises. The first speaker was Rev. Dr. G. R. W. Scott of Newton, who spoke very optimistically of the Seminary's future.

Prof. George F. Moore of the Seminary faculty followed, giving a brief resume of the year's happenings, speaking of the happy settlement of the mooted questions about seminary affairs at the time of the last annual dinner, viz., the professors' subscription to the creed, and the proposed removal of the seminary to a neighboring college city.

The election of the new professors, Messrs Day and Platner, the former being present to speak for himself, while Prof. Platner could not attend the exercises as college president had sent for him to say to him "You be 'D. D.'"

The fact that a steam heating plant which would furnish heat for the dormitories, was to be installed the coming summer, was mentioned by the speaker.

Prof. Moore concluded by saying that he felt great gratitude for the good things of the past year and hopes for a successful future.

Judge Bishop next called upon Prof. C. O. Day, the new president of the seminary, who responded with some fascinating and many hopeful remarks. He said that Pres. Hyde of Bowdoin college had written him that "Andover is the rising tide," and in a conversation on the train the other day, Dr. Plumb had said to him, "I am praying for Andover."

The latter remark created much merriment. Prof. Day said that there was no place anywhere that men if they will, can grow so strong in spiritual life than they can at Andover hill. He thought that young men from the West were going to seek Andover as a congenial climate. "The seminary's future looks promising," said he in conclusion.

Rev. Dr. Harry P. Dewey, of the church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, N. Y., was the next speaker. In his opinion, Andover was actually commencing a new life. "Thanks were due to those who had stood by the Seminary so valiantly through these years. Prof. Churchill was spoken of feelingly, and then Mr. Dewey mentioned another, the connecting link between the past and present, now with the Seminary, and who, he hoped, would long continue with it—Professor Smyth. "It is good to see him around," he said. In behalf of the alumni association, Dr. Dewey presented the trustees of the Seminary with a splendid three-quarter length portrait of Prof. Smyth, seated in a large arm chair. The painting is by Hugo Breul, of Providence, R. I., and will be hung among the likenesses of other notable men in the Seminary's hall of fame. Dr. McKenzie once said of Prof. Smyth, "He is the kind of man I should like to have take my hand when I am dying."

Prof. James Hardy Rogers, a member of the board of trustees, accepted the portrait for the board, in a few well chosen words.

Rev. Frank E. Butler, of the Union church, South Weymouth, a member of the examining committee, but not a graduate of this Seminary, spoke upon the promise of the future. He said that he and the other members of the examining committee had found that the work being done at the Andover Seminary was of such a nature as to commend itself to any man wishing to prepare himself for a future in the ministry.

The next speaker was Pres. Samuel B. Cole, of Wheaton Seminary, Norton, an alumnus of the Seminary. "Andover stands for progress; it does not bind the future," said he in the course of his remarks. In conclusion he paid a tribute to Prof. Smyth in the following lines:

"Honor and reverence and good repute
Be upon him who, living, we salute."

Rev. Herbert W. Stebbins, of Boston, who has been lecturing on social environment of the church at the Seminary during the past year, and Rev. Charles H. Cutler, of Bangor, Me., spoke briefly, and the meeting ended with the singing of the doxology and the benediction.

Many ladies were present and were interested listeners to the remarks of the various speakers.

HE IS A WONDER.
All who see Mr. C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, as he is now, cheerful, erect, vigorous, without an ache, would hardly believe he is the same man, who, a short time ago, had to sit in a chair, propped up by cushions, suffering intensely from an aching back, in agony if he tried to stoop—all caused by chronic kidney trouble, that no medicine helped until he used Electric Bitters and was wholly cured by three bottles. Positively cures Backache, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, all Kidney troubles. Only 50c at Arthur Bliss' drug store.

In the superior criminal court sitting at Salem, the jury in the case of Horace C. Van Denberg of Buffalo, N. Y., charged with perjury, returned a verdict of guilty Monday afternoon. John P. Atwood of Gloucester, convicted of polygamy, was sentenced to the house of correction for ten months. Howard Sawyer of Gloucester, charged with larceny, was sentenced to six months in the house of correction.

A small wreck occurred Monday evening, at Amesbury, on the Atlantic branch of the B. & M. R. R. The 233 passenger train from Newburyport to Amesbury, when near the freight yard, took the wrong track because of a misplaced switch. The engine struck two freight cars with full force and ended itself in the first car halfway in and threw it from the track. The engine was badly damaged. Hiram S. N. born, the engineer, jumped and was slightly injured. No passengers were hurt.

The trial of Horace C. Van Denberg of Buffalo on charge of perjury in connection with the case of the late Mrs. Van Denberg, was held in the superior court at Salem on Monday afternoon and the jury took the case at 3:30 o'clock, and returned a verdict of guilty. Van Denberg took the verdict quite coolly.

At the superior court in Salem on Monday, Joshua P. Atwood of Gloucester, who had entered a plea of guilty to the complaint charging him with bigamy, was sentenced to ten months in the house of correction. Howard Sawyer of the same city, who pleaded guilty of larceny, was sentenced to six months in the house of correction. George E. Bailey, charged with assault on Nellie Gallagher, entered a plea of guilty. The complainant acknowledged satisfaction of the case against Bailey was placed on file, on his payment of the costs, $15.

In Salem considerable interest is being manifested in the forthcoming opinion of the city solicitor as to whether the law gives the school board a right to establish kindergartens without a special appropriation. The opponents of the schools say that while the board has a right to provide for kindergarten teaching in the regular curriculum, they have no more right to establish art schools than they would to establish art schools or a conservatory of music as the law permits music and drawing to be taught the same as kindergarten work.

For causing the death of his friend, John J. Callahan, by striking him with an umbrella, Jeremiah P. McAuliffe of Peabody was found guilty of manslaughter in the superior court, sitting at Salem, Monday morning and was later sentenced to the house of correction for six months. The two defendants were on their way back from Lynn on the night of Jan. 17 last, after visiting a lodge of Foresters and by some means became involved in a squabble, in which McAuliffe punched Callahan on the head with the end of his umbrella.

The man did not appear to be very much injured at the time but two days later he died from the effects of the blow, a small hole having been made in his skull by the steel rod.

The Salem Board of Trade was fully organized, officers being elected and by-laws adopted, at an enthusiastic meeting in Amesbury hall Monday evening. The by-laws provide for an annual meeting in April, a regular meeting the first Thursday of every month, 12 members constituting a quorum, an initiation fee of $5 and an annual fee of the same amount. The following officers were elected: President, William S. Felton; vice-president, Alcen P. White; secretary, Charles H. Danforth; treasurer, George A. Shepherd; directors, George W. Pickering, George W. Pitman, James F. Donovan, David C. Whitton, Reuben Arty, John J. Connolly, William S. MacIntire, Henry M. Batchelder.

The clothing store of Justin F. White of Georgetown, was broken into by burglars Monday night some time between 11:30 and 4 o'clock and about $30 worth of clothing and shoes stolen. Entrance was gained by breaking one of the windows in the front door. The burglars were evidently bottled in getting into the store as an attempt was first made in the rear of the place. Here a window was smashed, but they could not get in, as entrance was barred by a double door, which are held in place by a large bar. They then gained an entrance by the front door and ransacked the interior. A large number of different suits, odd pants and shoes were secured, and the burglars decamped unmolested.

Captain Eben Lewis of the schooner N. B. Niles arrived in Gloucester port Sunday. The Niles had been gone eight weeks on her maiden trip in the southern mackerel fishery, and in that time has eclipsed all records in the fisheries. The vessel has landed 16 fates of mackerel, six in the kind of man I have not, stocking 11,500, which is the highest ever stocked in the southern mackerel fishery. The members of the crew got $350 each. This beats the previous record made by Captain Lewis himself in 1892, when in the schooner Nellie N. Rowe of Gloucester he stocked 9800. During the last week Captain Lewis has landed three fares aggregating 600 barrels of mackerel, 180 of which he salted. Captain Lewis was for years the great rival of Captain Sol Jacobs, and the race for the blue ribbon of the mackerel fleet was fair this year to equal its old time intensity and closeness. Captain Lewis' vessel carries an auxiliary engine, which he unhesitatingly pronounces a great success. When the fleet was in Newport and there was no wind he proceeded to sea, and in the end of the week he thereby secured a big school of fish which he otherwise would not have had. On another occasion it was equally effective.

HOLMES' WILL.
At a session of the probate court held in this city Monday, Judge Harmon presiding, a hearing was held in regard to the petition of Anna B. Wolff, wife of Carl J. Wolff of this city, for an order of the court compelling her husband to support her. Lawyer John C. Sanborn appeared for Mrs. Wolff and Lawyer John J. Donovan for her husband. The couple separated two years ago and the husband sought divorce alleging cruel and abusive treatment by his wife, but the bill was dismissed. The couple still live apart, although the husband says he has tried to have his wife come back.

Testimony was introduced to show that Mr. Wolff earned money by his work as a weaver in the Washington mills and that he has to pay that amount for the board of himself and young son. He formerly had property but the mortgage was foreclosed by Dr. Pfefferkorn. Lawyer Sanborn attempted to show that the foreclosure was intentional so that the wife could be cut off from support, but Wolff denied any knowledge of such a scheme.

Judge Harmon decided to open the case, stating that he could make no order at present, as it is clear that his present wages are sufficient only for himself and son. If an investigation shows that he has more property the judge said he would consider the matter again when it is brought to his attention.
